Paulo Monteiro

b. 1961, São Paulo, Brazil lives and works in São Paulo Paulo Monteiro continues his ongoing reconciliation of the dual forms of painting and sculpture by constructing a narrative between them. Continuously exploring the margins and limits of shape, Monteiro utilizes negative space as a medium in order to make his paintings feel like sculptures and his sculptures feel like paintings.

In the last decade, Monteiro has turned to pieces of rope, scraps of wood, cardboard, aluminum strips, and clay for the foundations of his sculptures. When using clay, he splays clay slabs open, dissects, and squeezes them with his hand until an animated interior reveals itself. The same conceptual unfolding process is applied to his painting technique, with inversions and constructions operating from the center of the painting. Paint is pushed to the edges of the canvas, creating forceful, physical borders. While a malleable physicality suffuses through his works, Monteiro has also been preoccupied with exploring the possibility of the line for most of his career, manifested as strokes in his work on paper, relief in his paintings, and cuts in his sculptures. His lines are never completely straight, nor do they follow a logic.

This radical plasticity in relation to the viewer led Monteiro to his "constellations" – configurations of his paintings and sculptures – which deal with the physicality of the object in relation to the artist and viewer. It is through the careful positioning of the negative space that these "constellations" take on form. Monteiro also achieves this through his sculptures formed by the negative imprint of his hand and fingers molded in clay and later cast in bronze or lead. His subject here is the interior life and inner drive of objects and, in his words, aims to "bring life to something lifeless."

Paulo Monteiro (b. 1961, São Paulo, Brazil) lives and works in São Paulo.

The artist's works have been featured prominently in exhibitions such as Ao redor da distância, Mendes Wood DM, São Paulo (2024); The Color of Distance, Mendes Wood DM, Brussels (2024); Paulo Monteiro, Mendes Wood DM, Archipelago, Germantown (2023); Undefined Inclusions, Pace Gallery, New York (2023); Paulo Monteiro: Linha do Corpo, Instituto Ling, São Paulo (2023); The Middle Distance, Zeno X Gallery, Antwerp (2022); Colors without a place, Tomio Koyama, Tokyo (2022); Paulo Monteiro: The Two Sides of An Empty Line, Lévy Gorvy, New York (2021); The Empty Side, Zeno X, Antwerp (2018); Coleção MAC Niterói: arte contemporânea no Brasil, MAC Niterói, Rio de Janeiro (2017); The outside of distance, MISAKO & ROSEN and Tomio Koyama Gallery, Tokyo (2017); Building Material: Process and Form in Brazilian Art, Hauser & Wirth, Los Angeles (2017); The inside of distance, Office Baroque, Brussels (2016); The inside of distance, Mendes Wood DM, São Paulo (2015); Casa 7, Pivô, São Paulo (2015); Empty House Casa Vazia, Luhring Augustine, New York (2015); Paintings on Paper, David Zwirner, New York (2014); Where Were You, Lisson Gallery, London (2014); 22nd São Paulo Art Biennial (1985).

SELECTED EXHIBITIONS

2024 Mendes Wood DM, São Paulo Ao redor da distância

Monteiro empirically explores the mechanics of solids and fluids, examining how forces, temperature, and density affect matter. His relentless pursuit of form results in works that feel interrupted, like animated objects oscillating between humor and sensuality. Capturing the world's density simply and unpretentiously, he invites reflection on the deepest aspects of daily life, revealing that beauty and complexity often hide in simple gestures. Interacting with his art, we rediscover the richness of small things and are reminded of the possibilities of life that manifest in every form, layer, and nuance around us.

2024 Mendes Wood DM, Brussels The Color of Distance

In pursuit of a formal language reduced to the minimum of elements, Paulo Monteiro has conceived The Color of Distance, his first individual exhibition at Mendes Wood DM in Brussels. Serving as a spatial meditation, the exhibition presents a subtle arrangement of recent works in which color and its atmospheric powers flow into the insistence of the body and its material presence.

2023 Archipelago, Germantown Paulo Monteiro

In a new series of paintings on linen, painted partially in São Paulo, Brazil, and in residency in Germantown, Monteiro's shapes become more rounded and colors more vibrant, continuing the artist's signature research into the materiality of paint and the delimitations of the canvas – painting as sculpture, sculpture as painting.

2023 Pace Gallery, New York Undefined Inclusions

In this exhibition with Pace in New York, Monteiro presented new oil paintings on linen and wood alongside bronze sculptures he created in 2022 and 2023. The shapes and sizes of the paintings in the show vary widely, with the largest measuring nine-feetlong and some six-feet-tall and the smallest approximately one-inch- wide and tall. As such, these paintings reflect Monteiro's longstanding interest in the edges, or borders, of the picture plane as well as his distinctive ability to work across monumental and diminutive scales.

2023 Instituto Ling, Porto Alegre Linba do Corpo

This exhibition features works from a decisive segment in Paulo Monteiro's work, following a period of immersion in painting, in the extreme sense of Abstract Expressionism and Transvanguardism, which he joined in the 1980s-90s with the Casa 7 group, which stirred up those decades. . Even then, the affinity with the "pictorial caricatures" of Philip Guston and his comic production denounced the passion for the line. This series of graffiti drawings, gouaches, wall pieces, sculptures and recent "little paintings" mark a displacement, departing from that urgency and expressive excess towards a graphic meditation: an abrupt retreat to the silence of the line.

2022 Zeno X, Antwerp The Middle Distance

Paulo Monteiro's oeuvre consists of drawings, paintings and sculptures. The artist's main theme is the line. He has a penchant for flowing lines that seek out the edges of the canvas. In his paintings, he pushes the paint forward with his fingers, causing it to accumulate and create borders. In this respect, he treats paint as a material rather than a colour. His sculptures are placed on the ground without a plinth. They lean against or hang on the wall and can be read as the three-dimensional contours of a painting. He moulds his sculptures like lines. They are folded, connected and cut, and he lets gravity do its work. The use of colour plays a major role in this: the light, sweet colours seem to strip the bronze sculptures of their weight.

2021 Lévy Gorvy, New York Paulo Monteiro: The Two Sides of An Empty Line

Lévy Gorvy will presented The Two Sides of an Empty Line, an exhibition of new paintings and sculptures by Paulo Monteiro. Monteiro rejects monumentality and grand statements in his art in favor of expressive immediacy and intimacy, and an embrace of contingency, subtle humor, and gesture, stating: "I'm more connected to the expression, to the poetic, instead of sticking to a technique that favors me."

2021 Gerald Luss House, New York At The Luss House: Blum & Poe, Mendes Wood DM and Object & Thing

The exhibition features works from 18 international artists in response to the house's environment, including Alma Allen, Lucas Arruda, Cecily Brown, Green River Project LLC, Eddie Martinez, Ritsue Mishima, Johnny Ortiz, Frances Palmer, Paulo Monteiro, and Marina Perez Simão among others. In addition to the organizing galleries, Blum & Poe and Mendes Wood DM, Object & Thing is presenting works contributed by Alison Bradley Projects (New York City) and GALLERY crossing (Minokamo, Japan).

2016 Office Baroque, Brussels The inside of distance

For his solo at Office Baroque, Monteiro has questioned the differences and similarities between inside and outside, bringing together his abstract paintings, wall objects and sculptures in spatial arrangements throughout the gallery. The oil paintings are at once reductive and expressive, composed with subtle, interacting arrangements of color and trace, which Paulo applies with meticulous attention to the physical qualities of paint. Each mark, line or curve holds a wealth of references, yet the work's elegance lies in its apparent simplicity. His sculptures, raw materials altered by intuitive gestures, relate to organic forms and shapes and have a special intimacy that derives from the physical characteristics of the medium itself. The visual themes of water, the horizon and the body run through Paulo's work.

I use somewhat the same strategy in physical space and on paper [..] It's abstract, but it's an element in space that obeys a certain strategy, the same one I use in drawing.
